For courier delivery we require the following information

Date of event:

Preferred delivery date:

Choice of courier service:

Full recipients name:

Address in full:

Mobile number for text confirmation:

Email address for email confirmation:

We will supply the dpd format that we need all clients to populate in excel. This format cannot be altered or changed. A mobile number and email address are obligatory for each individual delivery address.

The client must be informed that the delivery is coming, so that if there are any issues with the delivery time or if they will not be in this can be managed. The recipient can action these directly with dpd as an email and text will be sent to them the day before and on the morning, they are receiving the delivery.

Important information for delivery

We ask that there is someone available to receive the delivery, as these are perishable goods we cannot redeliver. Whilst we try and accommodate all requests, we cannot cancel or refund orders for perishable products once we have sourced them at your instruction.

Please note:

We only deliver via courier tuesday to friday - food delivery boxes can be stored in the fridge and will last 48 hours after delivery. For picnics no hamper will be supplied with this delivery option.

We will always try our best to ensure punctual delivery for our clients and that the food arrives in good condition but cannot be held responsible if a delivery arrives late due to any circumstances impacting the availability of the courier or anything else outside of little picnic company's control.

We/our courier will take all reasonable care to deliver to the address given. However, we will not be liable for non-delivery as a result of incorrect details provided or stolen packages. We will make every effort to communicate your delivery instructions to the courier, however we cannot guarantee delivery instructions will be followed. Booked timed hour delivery slots are not available.
